

Modernize Secure Access with Strategic Focus & Speed

Secure Browser Accelerator

Your workforce needs seamless, secure access to cloud and web applications from anywhere. Yet traditional remote access tools — like VPNs or browser extensions — are difficult to scale and easy to exploit, leaving your organization vulnerable to phishing, data leakage, and unmonitored browser activity.

Powered by Palo Alto, Stratascale's Secure Browser Accelerator speeds Prisma Access Browser adoption. The result is a browser security solution that drives improved security without compromising user experience.

Zero Trust Browser Access, Delivered with Clarity and Confidence

Stratascale's offering goes beyond standard product implementation. Our four-phase approach reduces implementation complexity and downtime, increases deployment velocity, and ensures long-term operational success.

Validate

Assess current state and readiness through detailed architecture workshops and health reviews. Align on pilot users and project objectives.

Design

Create detailed implementation plans covering policies, device management, integrations (e.g., IdP), and phased rollout waves.

Prepare

Build and configure the browser environment, validate private app access and security features, and confirm readiness for migration.

Deploy & Operate

Execute pilot and production rollouts. Provide Day 2 support, documentation, and final tuning to ensure smooth handoff and long-term success.

This structured methodology bridges the gap between policy design and user experience, ensuring every control is aligned to your unique environment, risk posture, and operational demands. Whether your goals are secure SaaS access, remote workforce enablement, or browser isolation, we deliver tailored protection that scales.

Accelerate Secure Access Without the Complexity & Headache

Our service is delivered by Palo-certified practitioners who provide clear direction from an agnostic, business-centric point of view. By combining Palo Alto best practices with strong organizational change management capabilities, we'll help you realize the benefits of Prisma Access Browser faster than the competition.
