

Executive Tabletop Exercise

They say practice makes perfect. Put your incident response plans to the test and sharpen your ability to navigate through a cybersecurity event.

Simulate Real-World Scenarios to Enhance Your Response Strategies

Stratascale's Executive Tabletop Exercise raises the bar by leveraging multiple delivery techniques and dynamic storylines to simulate a real-world crisis. Our scenario-based approach considers areas of incident response that are often overlooked (like crisis communications) and puts strategic emphasis on executive alignment and practical skill application. This approach maximizes executive engagement, validates understanding of key objectives, and delivers data that is critical to decision-making.
